Other Collaborative Groups Memberships:

We encourage participation in meetings and events as they become available. We at AACP are fostering the Collaborative method of Divorce. AACP is also relying on our membership to be responsive or proactive in trying to bring in new members, provide topics of discussion and work with our other members in making our group successful. Keeping Collaborative forefront with our clients and fostering a non-adversarial environment of practice through this Network of likeminded professionals will insure success.

We at AACP are always looking for engaging members to help with areas of Communications (social media) and suggestions for topics that will benefit the group and promote AACP.

Membership dues will be required on an annualized basis.
